Part II—Written Statement of Reasons for Detention

I find that the credible testimony and information submitted at the hearing establishes by clear and convincing evidence X a preponderance of the evidence: Defendant did not oppose the government's motion for detention, but reserved the right to revisit detention in the future. which was granted. In addition to the defendant's waiver, the court finds that the evidence against defendant that he illegally reentered the US after deportation to be strong. Defendant was deported previously on June 24, 2001 and against in 2002. He was also convicted of criminal impersonation and delivery of a narcotic in 2005 in DE and forgery 2d in 2003.
